

Seaton Ross Playing Fields Association

Seaton Ross Feast

Seaton Ross Playing Fields Association would like to thank everyone who kindly donated 'Spin and Win' prizes and all the people who supported us on the day by buying burgers (supplied by Burtons Butchers, Pocklington) or visiting our stalls. Thanks also to Murr's Farm Shop for its continued support of the Playing Fields. As a result of your generosity we raised approximately £400 which will go towards the maintenance and replacement of equipment at the Playing Fields.

Shed Seven Guitar Raffle

Thanks to the generosity of Paul Banks, the Seaton Ross Playing Fields Association has an electric guitar (and amp), signed by all members of the local band Shed Seven, available as a raffle prize to raise funds for the Playing Fields. Tickets went on sale at the Feast and we will be drawing the raffle at the Casino Night. Tickets are available from committee members, the shop or the Black Horse.

Look out for the next issue when there will be more results from the feast.

News about Seaton Ross Folk - Past & Present

Eva Gardham 1927 - 2010

Mrs Eva Gardham died suddenly at her Seaton Ross home at the end of July. She had always been an active member of the village community. For many years she ran the Darby & Joan club, she also organised bingo in the village hall. She was awarded a long service medal for her WRVS work. Throughout her life she raised a lot of money for local charities. Eva was a founder member of the village hall committee and until her death she ran the 150 club. She will be greatly missed by her sons Eric, David and Geoff and their families who still live in the village.

~~~~~
Congratulations to Joseph and Agnes Pears who recently celebrated their golden wedding.

~~~~~
Fred and Jane Henley's first grandson, Evan Robert was born to Alison and Darren on 5th July.

~~~~~
Adam Watson (son of Geoff & Mary who lived in the village for many years) was married in London to Bildeep.

~~~~~
Richard Walker (son of Alan & Billie) was married in Ilkley to Louise.

If you have any interesting news or information concerning the village let us know.

Jane Henley (318411) or Claire & Margaret Hunt (318693)
